

Harbor Moon

The following is the information concerning this organic plant:

Appearance

Harbor Moon Fungi appears to be a thick layer of sponge-like material that floats atop still water surfaces. It is easily penetrated with a finger poke.

% chance to locate per 24 hours: 5%

of checks per 24 hours: 1

Classification: Fungus.

Color: Orange-white.

Location: Edges of still bodies of water.

Maturity: 90 days.

Regional habitation: Mountains.

Smell: Slight cheese and water mix.

Uses found: 6-D20.

Value per use: 3 white-gold.

Taste: Stale water, mingled with a very slight orange taste.

Texture: Sponge-like.

Explanation

Harbor Moon can ONLY be found at an elevation of 5,000 to 6,000 feet in any mountain region. It is rare to find, but a valuable fungi for medicinal purposes. It can be dried and stored for 20 years, retaining its fresh potency and value.

Area of influence: Consumer only.

Damage: None.

Duration of effects: Permanent as long as it is consumed as specified in the "Effect time".

Effect time: 7 days. 1 use of fungus must be eaten once per day for 7 days.

Effects: Harbor Moon will decrease the symptoms of depression and sadness 30-80% (roll 1-D6 +2 x10).

Healing: Depression / Sadness will lessen as the "Description of effects" states.

Immunities: None.

Maximum adjustments:

Overdose symptoms: For each use over 1 consumed "Side effects" will increase by 5% in all areas.

Range of influence: Consumer only.

Resting time: None.

Side effects: Slightly Euphoric for the first three days until one gets used to it (-10 offense, -10 defense, -5 on all avoidance-rolls).

Used for: Depression / Sadness.

Preparation

None. Harbor Moon can be eaten raw, dried and mixed in with a drink, or mixed in with food (as a powder).

Avoidance-roll: None.

Measurement per use: $\frac{1}{2}$ " x $\frac{1}{2}$ " x $\frac{1}{2}$ " square cube.