

Potions, Explanation of: Zarr's Enlightenment

Area of Effect: Imbiber only.

Avoidance-roll: None.

Doses: 1-D6

Damage: None.

Duration: Permanently seals a spell-rune into memory, as if memorizing it from a scroll.

Effect time: 1 turn (5 seconds)

Explanation: This potion will grant the Gift of Understanding for the caster to memorize any non-ability spell-rune. The spell-rune will be added to his or her personal spell-list permanently, and can be cast using spell-points as normal. The good thing about this potion is that it negates the demand for prerequisites, if the spell calls for such.

Hand movement: None.

Healing: None.

History: Zarr was one of the mighty magicians of the past, and was one of Yorlon's apprentices until Yorlon released him from his apprenticeship. Zarr went on to become as powerful as Yorlon, creating many powerful spells, potions and items now found scattered throughout Utaemia.

It is known that the two, Yorlon and Zarr, remained loyal friends until they both mysteriously vanished from this world. No one truly knows what became of Zarr, though it is speculated his fate was tied up with Yorlon. However, this is only speculation.

Immunities: Animated, Gaseous, Mind and Organic creatures are not effected by this potion.

Invoke time: Long enough to drink the potion and read the spell-rune.

Liquid color: Silver.

Liquid texture: Like thin mud.

Liquid taste: Like Lemon.

Liquid smell: Unknown smell, but it is pleasant to the senses.

Maximum adjustment: None.

Notes: None.

Preparation: Drink one dose of this potion.

Range: Imbiber only.

Resting time: None.

Special: None.

Susceptibilities: None.

Value: 200,000 white-gold per dose.
