

Bonemold

The following is the information concerning this organic plant:

Appearance

Bonemold is a thick layer of dark-green fungus which can form within the inner cavity of skulls (these skulls must be within a grave, tomb, or crypt).

% chance to locate per 24 hours: 10%

of checks per 24 hours: 1

Classification: Fungi.

Color: Dark-green.

Location: Bonemold grows and forms within the inner skull of the deceased.

Maturity: 3 years.

Regional habitation: Forest.

Smell: Musty, as old bones smell.

Uses found: 2-D4

Value per use: 3 black-gold

Taste: Dead flesh.

Texture: Stiff Moss; thick and dense.

Explanation

Bonemold is rare to find, but highly valuable fungi to use for minimizing, and even curing, disease. Corrupted Bonemold will cause disease to advance one level higher, thus making the victim of disease even more ill. If not successfully treated within 72 hours (3 days) roll on the following chart:

% Roll: Corrupted Bonemold effect:

01-05: Chronically diseased.

06-10: Undead status (diseased will become the living dead (Discretion of the G.M.).

11-50: 10-60% intensity to existing increased disease.

51-75: Insanity (Discretion of the G.M. -- brain damage has occurred).

76-00: Align becomes absolute chaotic (if the victim is good, he or she will become absolutely chaotic good -- See: "Align" in the A section of the Basic Rules Book).

Area of influence: Consumer.

Damage: None.

Duration of effects: Permanent unless inflicted with disease again.

Effect time: 3 days.

Effects: Bonemold will saturate, fight against, disease within the victim

Healing: Heals 1 level of disease per use.

Immunities: 72 hours (3 days).

Maximum adjustments:

Overdose symptoms: None.

Range of influence: Consumer.

Resting time: 72 hours (3 days).

Side effects: There is a risk involved using Bonemold. Bonemold can be contaminated, thus furthering the effects of decrease currently plaguing the victim. Bonemold has a 1-D12 % chance of being corrupted. See: "Explanation".

Used for: Relieving disease.

Preparation

1. Scrape Bonemold out from inner skull.
2. Dry thoroughly and mince or chop into a fine powder for mixing into food or drink.
3. Consume it on an empty stomach (food and water cannot be had 48 hours prior).

Avoidance-roll: Yes: vs. "Disease"

Measurement per use: One full pinch between thumb and forefinger.